

RADMEIR

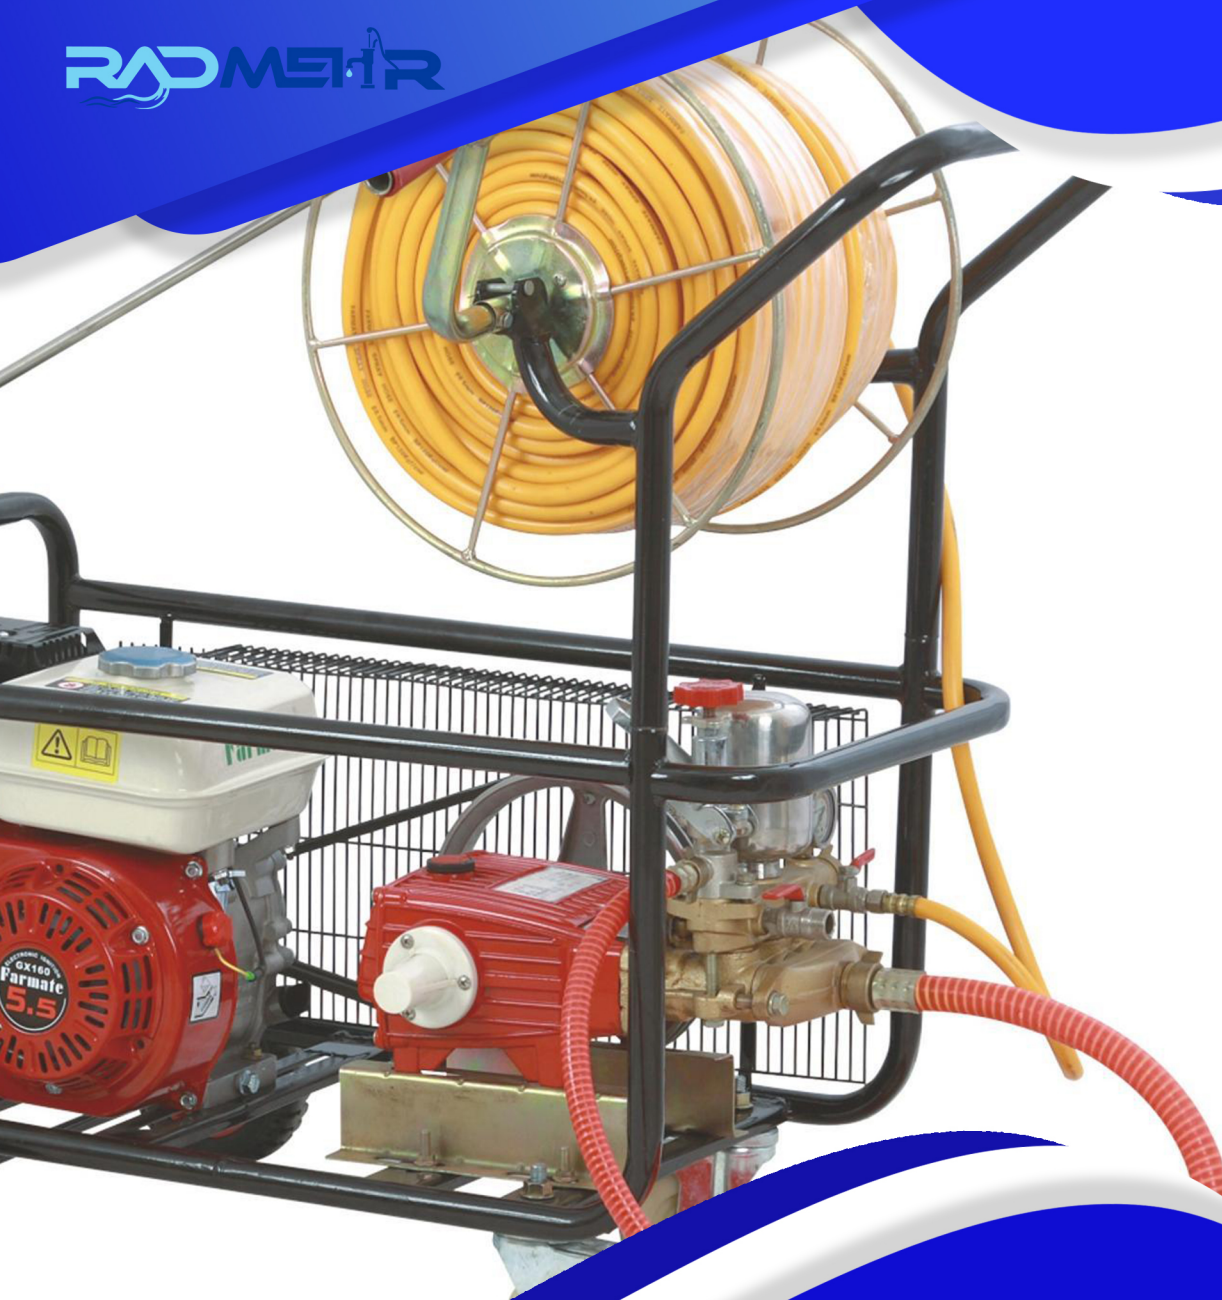

Company overview

Radmehr Trading Company has been established as one of the most specialized companies in the Middle East with modern agricultural tools, including sprayers and groundwater pumps as well as modern facilities for production, assembly and paint line of electrostatic furnaces with the highest quality products for farmers, gardeners and traders worldwide. Due to the old and outdated methods of spraying agricultural products, low efficiency, high consumption of pesticides and destructive effects of sprayers for the environment, Radmehr Trading Company intended to minimize the needs for different types of sprayers in the Middle East with the contribution of engineers and experts in this field. These products include a wide range of ground water pumps and agricultural, garden, turbo-atomizer, turbo-liner and boom sprayers from 8 to 28 meters in length and in tanks from 10 to 3000 liters.

Business Description

The development and advancement of technology in the world and the growing population has affected all products in the world, therefore, there is no more room for the reflection, preservation and application of the old and traditional methods of production, especially in agriculture. Consequently, old methods exhaust the manpower and lead to higher costs with less efficiency. The other topic which can be discussed is that food is a very significant issue in the world, and different methods are utilized in order to solve this problem. Therefore, most of the countries have been launching production lines for agricultural equipment and tools. The United States ranks first in the world with a trade value of $ 31 billion. Japan, and the Netherlands, rank second to third largest producers in the world respectively. Meanwhile, Radmehr Trading Company has a special vision to export its products globally by using modern and advanced machines as well as experienced specialists. This company also meets the needs of a large number of traders and merchants in the region with the highest quality in order to turn into one of the top brands in the production of agricultural implements, especially sprayers and groundwater pumps.

Vision and values

Radmehr Trading Company intends to turn into one of the top producers of agricultural industries in the Middle East by taking advantage of its experience in international markets and hopes that in the near future, it will turn into one of the three superior brands of producers of these products in the world.
